Second Sunday of Easter (or Divine Mercy Sunday)

Readings: ACTS 5:12-16; PS 118:2-413-15,22; REV 1:9-11A,12-13,17-19; JN 20:19-31

This Sunday, the Second Sunday of Easter, is Divine Mercy Sunday. Our Gospel reading from St. John is often called the story of "Doubting Thomas" but the passage involves so much more than the encounter with the skeptical apostle. It is rich with lessons of Christ's mercy to all, including an encouraging word from our Lord especially for us, His modern-day disciples.

While Thomas traditionally takes all the bad rap for his doubts, we see that none of the Apostles were at their best when Christ first appeared to them after His resurrection.

They were actually in hiding, cowering behind a locked door, paralyzed by fear and doubt.

But Jesus appeared right in their midst in spite of the lock on the door. Was it to rebuke them for their lack of faith? Quite the contrary.

He comes on a mission of mercy. He comes to offer them peace and the restoration of their relationship with Him. And even more, He commissions them to become ministers of His mercy, by giving them authority to forgive sins. At that moment Christ gives to all of us the supreme gift of mercy - the sacrament of Reconciliation. What a precious and powerful gift!

This Sunday is a perfect time to reflect on how well we make use of this gift. Do we really appreciate its healing power? Could we become better stewards of this gift by going to Confession more often? We must also reflect on how well we extend mercy to others as Jesus did to Thomas that day.

Let's commit ourselves to becoming faithful disciples and stewards of Christ's mercy. We will be those very ones to whom Jesus gave a "shout out" during His encounter with Thomas: "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed" - in His merciful love.

Staff Spotlight!

Let's take this week to spotlight our very own Admissions Coordinator, Becky King! Becky hails from Sioux Falls, SD and has lived in Lubbock since 1986. She attended college at South Dakota State University and South Plains College. Mrs. King is a long time volunteer, having helped in the cafeteria while her children were in school and has spent the last four years as CTK employee! Her sons Clint, Charlie and daughter Katy - all attended CTKC School from PK to 9th from 1986 - 2005 - that's a lot of Science Fair Projects!!! She also has six grandchildren: Aubrey 12, William 10, Ethan, 7, CJ 18 mo., Daniel age 1, and one on the way this fall. Mrs King says her favorite thing about CTK is "Our sense of community of sharing God's love daily and the never ending positive attitudes of all students, parents and faculty, and I get to walk to work!!"

She is also member of the 9:00 choir at CTKC Cathedral. She and her husband enjoy daily walking for exercise and spending time together. Mrs. King also loves to snack on vegetables and avocados! Thank you Mrs. King for all of your hard work and dedication to Christ the King!

CTK Garden: Produce Sale Next Week - Friday, May 3rd!

Produce sale May 3rd (3-4 pm): We have several crops planted last fall that are ready to be harvested. So our last produce sale of the year next Friday, May 3rd. We won't be doing any pre-sales for this time given the short turnaround time. We will still have some produce with two local farms, [...] ...»

CTK Rising Stars!

CTK students are involved in many activities outside of school, and we wanted to share the accomplishments of another of our students this week. If your student has received honors outside of school, please let us know! We would love to share!

4th grader Aideen Chaloupka has been flipping since she was 5 years old. She has competed in many competitions across Texas since the beginning of the school year. Her most recent contest was earlier this spring in Oklahoma City at the Nadia Comaneci International Invitational. She placed 1st on floor, 2nd on bars, 3rd on vault and 4th on balance beam. She was 1st All Around and received one of the four special awards given in the spirit of Nadia Comaneci.

Prayers for all of our students as they become the best versions of themselves at CTKC School and outside of school!
